

STEVE ROUSE RETURNS TO WBAL RADIO

Steve Rouse will be returning to WBAL Radio starting Friday, February 1st. Rouse, a Baltimore radio icon for over two decades will wear many hats at WBAL. Steve will become WBAL's primary voice for commercial advertising.

In addition, he will substitute host for the Dave Durian and Shari Elliker shows, as well as pinch-hit for Keith Mills during morning sports reports.

Steve will return to WBAL's Ravens game day pregame as the on-site tailgate correspondent.

"We are proud to have Steve on our team. He has been a part of the fabric of Baltimore radio for several decades," says Jeff Beauchamp WBAL Vice President/Station Manager.

WBAL listeners will be able to meet and greet Steve at this year's Polar Bear Plunge on January 26th. Steve has been instrumental in making the Polar Bear Plunge one of the top fundraisers in Maryland.

Rouse has over 35 years in the broadcasting industry including 22 in Baltimore. He has been nominated for and received many awards including broadcasting's highest honor The Marconi.

WBAL Radio (AM 1090) is Baltimore's 50,000-watt news, talk and sports leader.
